Ilfracombe

THE DEVELOPMENT

Mariner's Haven is a collection of new homes situated in an elevated position overlooking Ilfracombe on the North Devon coast. The development offers one to five bedroom houses and apartments surrounded by countryside, with many homes enjoying sea views.

Mariner's Haven consists of a range of house styles from our new Legacy collection. The homes are designed to make the most of the stunning outlook while remaining sympathetic to the local landscape, and offer practical and modern living spaces with energy-efficiency in mind.

The development has a superstore nearby, and is only 1.5 miles from Ilfracombe town centre for local amenities. It's also conveniently located close to the B3230, providing an excellent link to Barnstaple and to major roads including the A39 into North Cornwall.

Mariner's Haven references the safe refuge that Ilfracombe's historically significant port provided for seafarers.

St Nicholas Chapel on Lantern Hill, named after the patron saint of sailors, overlooks the harbour — it's thought to be the oldest working lighthouse in the country.

THE LOCATION

Ilfracombe's strong maritime history is still apparent today in its picturesque harbour — a hub of activity for both pleasure cruises and fishing boats catering to the thriving foodie culture in the town.

The town centre retains much of its Victorian architecture, and many of Ilfracombe's shops are independent retailers, making this a unique and charming town to live in. Local amenities include coffee shops, pubs and restaurants, a cinema and theatre, leisure centre, and a number of art galleries. Ilfracombe has two supermarkets as well as smaller convenience stores, plus schooling for all ages.

From the town, four hand-carved tunnels lead to Ilfracombe's famed Tunnels Beaches, offering sheltered swimming spots, a tidal pool, and fantastic rockpooling.

Tunnels Beaches, popularised in the Victorian era

A large part of North Devon's coastline is a designated National Landscape to protect its diverse habitats and scenery, which ranges from rugged cliffs and sheltered coves to long stretches of dune-backed beaches.

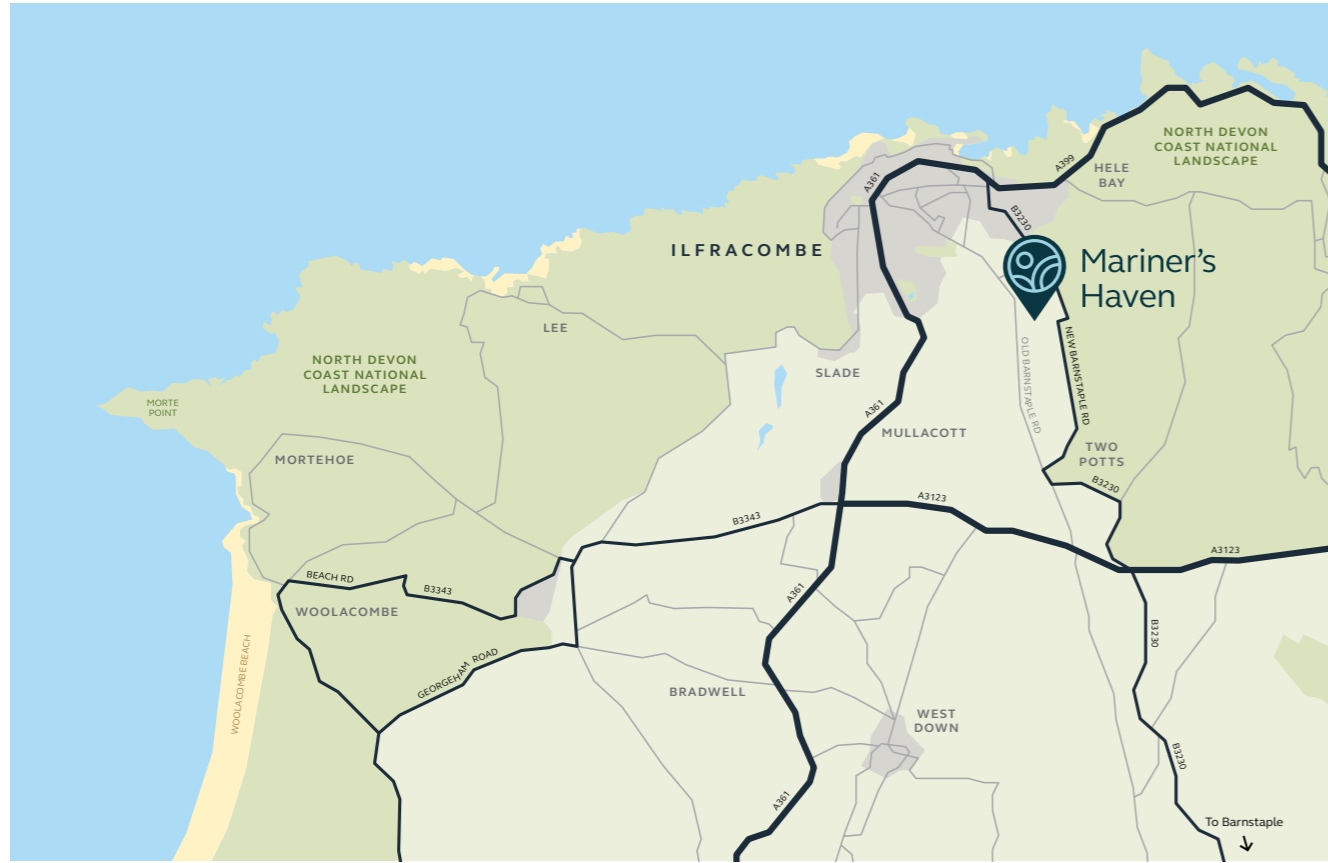

The South West Coast Path is a fantastic way to explore the incredible scenery of the North Devon coastline.

As it passes through Ilfracombe, the path incorporates local landmark The Torrs, or The Seven Hills, which is visible from much of the town. The park has a network of paths to climb while taking in spectacular views.

There are numerous popular beaches along the North Devon coast, from the secluded Lee Bay to the sandy expanses of Woolacombe Beach and Saunton Sands.

For travel further afield, the closest train station is Barnstaple (11 miles), with a direct line to Exeter St David's for all major routes and Exeter Airport.
